

Offshore Pipelines & Risers

– Smart and Innovative Solutions –

Conference language: English

Due to the increasing spread of Covid-19, the Norwegian Petroleum Society (NPF) has decided to arrange this year's Offshore Pipelines & Risers Conference as a webinar.

THEME:

While the market has been in recovery for a few years with more sustainable prices for oil and gas and the international demand for energy is increasing, the new boundary conditions of politics and expectations for more cost-effective solutions, puts pressure onto the industry.

At the same time, the activity forecast related to subsea pipelines and risers indicate a doubling in the activity over the next years which suggest plenty of opportunities ahead. Finding more efficient ways to design, install and operate pipeline systems is seen to be increasingly important to stay ahead of the pack.

Benefits of participating at a webinar:

- Easy access to updated industry news and professional input
- Flexible! Follow the webinar from a screen of your choice
- Save time! You do not have to travel and be away from family or work for days
- Save money! No travel expenses or hotel accommodation
- Watch the webinar at your own pace in a safe environment.
