

We welcome students to apply for admission to our popular Exploration Revived Conference at Clarion Hotel Air, Sola Stavanger, 13-15 September 2021.

The Norwegian Petroleum Society is organising a two-day Exploration Revived Seminar in Stavanger this March. This is the 9th NPF Biennial Petroleum Geology Conference organised by NPF.

Invited speakers from the industry and academia will cover different aspects of breaking new ground in Exploration, involving new or revived plays, new ways of integrating data, new technology and strategies.

The main conference commences on Tuesday morning however we recommend joining in Monday the 13th of September to enjoy an evening with your peers for the Icebreaker gathering and core viewing.

Special invitation to university students

Students, senior year / Master / PhD can apply for free admission to the conference. To be applicable you must be a student at a Norwegian university or university college. The free admission includes conference participation both days, conference dinner, ice-breaker and accommodation in needed.

Applications can be sent to tonje.raknes@npf.no

Deadline: 26th of August 2021

Norwegian Petroleum Society (NPF) and the organising committee look forward to welcome you all to Stavanger.

Best regards
